Nintendo Switch 2 Multiplayer Action Title “The Duskbloods” Release Window Change

FromSoftware, Inc. (Headquarters: Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo; President: Hidetaka Miyazaki) have announced the following release window change for the upcoming Nintendo Switch™ 2 title “The Duskbloods” (published by Nintendo / FromSoftware).

【Before change】 Release window: scheduled for 2026

【After change】 Release window: scheduled for 2027

During the network test in August 2026, we saw active interest in the core concepts of the game, including direct combat, strategic depth, and player expression. To further enhance these aspects of the game and improve the player experience, we have made the decision to move the release window, allowing time for final adjustments to game rules and balancing.

We offer our sincere apologies to players who have been kindly awaiting the release of this title. Your understanding and patience are greatly appreciated.
